It was a gala night at Tattersalls for the 2024 Mayne Tigers Awards presentation with the club still floating on air after the extraordinary success of last weekend. The talk of the night was of course the two senior premierships achieved in the club's centenary year last Saturday.

The success had been well and truly celebrated over the last week but last night was a chance for the club to formerly reflect and thank all the people who had made the year's successes possible.

President Campbell Shaw opened the evening with a comprehensive reflection on the year taking into account all the key people at every level of the club. Campbell was effusive of the work undertaken right across the football department from coaches to players and the strength and conditioning staff. He also thanked his hard working committee for their professional and business based approach to the club's administration.

We thank Guy Gardner and all the team at Gardner Vaughan Group for their ongoing support and dedication to the Mayne Tigers Football Club.

Runner Up Best and Fairest Jamie Ivers with Andrew Housego at Tattersalls last night.

The night's awards started with recognition for volunteers working through all the teams to the culmination being the Keith Beavis Trophy for Club Champion.

In a year with so much success and both senior teams being at their best it was always going to be a tight contest for the most prestigious award.

Once again, five time winner Jack Collings polled strongly while Tiger ruckman Jamie Ivers had his best season, but the 2024 Club Champion was taken out by Beau Harris who took the Tigers year by storm with his skills, pace and pressure in the midfield. Harris was a very popular winner in his first year with the club. He gave a wonderful acceptance speech and to the delight of all the Tiger faithful gave out a call to arms to do it all again in 2025.

Zac Quin with his Mick Nolan Trophy for Player's Player at the Mayne Awards Night at Tattersalls last night.

Coaches Jack Gartlan and Jeremy Watts both gave emotional accounts of their first season as senior coaches reflecting on how well they had worked together and enjoyed their time. They paid tribute to Assistant Coaches Tony Lynn and Sean Doolan. Tony has brought an abundance of experience and presence to the group while Sean's analytical skills are second to none for a club at this level.

Ryan Doolan took out the Coaches Award for his stellar season where he also kicked 66 goals after missing several games with a broken cheekbone.

Digby Morison was awarded the Everton Award at the Mayne Awards last night at Tattersalls.

Danny Craven presented the Everton Award as a joint Life Member of the Mayne Tigers and Everton Wolves. He reflected on the importance of this award with so many names on the trophy who have gone on to play an important role in the Tigers success. The Award recognises local talent who are the stars of the future. He made the wonderful observation that twelve players in the senior premierships team were either Everton or Mayne Juniors. Seven from Everton and five from Mayne in a very positive sign of the player pathway. The winner this year was former Mayne Junior Digby Morison.

one of the leaders in the Tigers men's department which has had a very strong tradition particularly over the last fifteen years.

Former Mayne Junior Eddie Mallan was the very popular winner of the Best in Finals. Eddie returned to the Tigers this year to help the club win a premiership in the centenary year and he proved to be a very important cog in the Tigers success. The Mallan name is synonymous with the Mayne Tigers and now Eddie continues that tradition in wonderful style. In great news he has agreed to play on for another season.

Tim Lyons wins again in the Twos

Reserve Grade Coach Danny Evans gave a wonderful account of his first year at the helm of the team he has led as a player for over a decade. He reflected on the challenges of the year but also the terrific support he received from the wider coaching group and in particular assistant coach Nick Galvin who stepped up into the role after being ruled out for the season with an ACL in the pre-season.

Gus Shaw took out the Runner Up Best and Fairest in the Reserves at Tattersalls last night.

In a comprehensive effort Tim Lyons was the winner of the Graham Walters Best and Fairest Trophy in the Reserve Grade for the second year in succession.

It was no surprise that Molly Nelson took out the Glenda Barber Best and Fairest Trophy as she had clearly led her team from the front in a very impressive season. Molly paid tribute to her team mates and to the coaching group for their great support and dedication to the team. Glenda Barber gave another wonderful speech reflecting on the Tiger's centenary and how her father and uncle would be so pleased to know that the club is going so well one hundred years on from when they kicked it all off. Molly also took out the Player's Player Award.

Erin Eldon had another terrific year for the Tigers to take out the Runner Up Best and Fairest. Erin had a holiday in the middle of the year missing several games but made up for it on her return finishing off very strongly to poll very well.

Jordan Cabot wins the John Laing Best and Fairest for the Womens team at Tattersalls last night.

The John Laing Trophy for Best and Fairest in the Thirds went to Jordan Cabot once again for his impressive season.

The experienced David Tyquin took out the Runner Up Best and Fairest and the Player's Player for his great work in the middle. It was just what the Thirds needed to have a Senior Premiership player like Dave join the group this year.

Joseph Hermann was Most Consistent in his first season of AFL. Joe was a revelation in the ruck and will be very important for the Tigers going forward as he continues to learn the trade.

In other awards for the Thirds, Harry Crockett took out the Coaches Award, Andrey Goulter the Most Improved and James Kasch the Most Courageous.

Young Guns lead Volunteer Awards

The Volunteer and Milestone Awards were presented by Campbell Shaw and Russell Ditchburn, both acknowledging the wonderful service of so many people this year.

The highest award the club presents is the Jack Kennedy Club Person of the Year in honour of the famous Tiger Life Member and Hall of Famer.

This year the Award was shared by two great young men who have played so many roles for the club. They were Daniel Schmidt and Gus Shaw. Dan is in the Senior Leadership Group, has been on the Committee for two years, runs social functions, regularly helps out at the Breakfast Creek Raffles while Gus has been Reserve Grade Captain, Assistant Coach of the Women's team, works the Bar at functions and regularly steps up for whatever role is needed to be filled.

In other Awards, Marc and Sam Craigie were awarded Match Day Helper of the Year, Sean Doolan, Team Support Person of the Year while John Laing was awarded Committee Person of the Year.

Jack Gartlan and Jeremy Watts were awarded Coaches of the Year for their successful year leading the club's most senior team.

Ryan Eyles and Jordan Morrison received their formal recognition for their 100 games of Senior Football for the club.

Two New Life Members in 2024

In a very important part of last night's Awards, the presentation of two very deserving Life Memberships was made.

Erin Hersant and Beth Johnson receive Shane Johnson's Life Membership Certificate on his behalf at Tattersalls last night.

Shane Johnson received Life Membership after an almost 50 year association with the Tigers dating back to his arrival from Tasmania as a rugged defender in 1975. He played 123 senior games for the Tigers which began a lifelong affiliation with the club as a junior development officer, coach and mentor. He worked at AFLQ and the Brisbane Lions for many years and always provided invaluable support to the hierarchy of the Tigers until being part of the coaching group that won the drought breaking 2014 premiership. He recently led the way for the implementation of the Mayne Tigers Hall of Fame. A very worth recipient of Life Membership.

Brent McArdle was also awarded Life Membership for his 10 years of Service to the Tigers as a Player and Administrator. Brent is a Premiership player from the 2017 Third Grade team and has been a Committee Member for eight years including four as Secretary.
